

“THE LEGACY WE SHARE”

Our legacy is more than a collection of dates, names, and rituals — it is the living heartbeat of Virginia Templary. It lives in the Commanderies that shaped us, the friendships that strengthened us, and the mentors who first showed us what it truly means to take up the mantle of a Christian Knight. Every time we don the mantle, raise the sword, or gather in fellowship, we are adding our own chapter to a story that began long before us and will continue long after we are gone.

But a legacy only survives when it becomes personal. It endures when we care enough to preserve our stories, teach our traditions, and invest in the next generation of Sir Knights. Each of us carries a piece of this heritage — in our memories, in the lessons we learned from those who guided us, and in the example we set for those who will follow. When we truly take ownership of our legacy, it stops being something we inherit and becomes something we actively build, protect, and pass forward.

“The Legacy We Share” is a call to honor the past by strengthening the present and preparing the future. It challenges us to be intentional: to step into leadership, to practice our craft with excellence, and to ensure that what we received is not diminished in our hands. Let us be the keepers of the flame, the ones who carry the sword with purpose, and the storytellers who ensure that our history is never forgotten. For this is not just the legacy of Templary — it is our legacy.

AND FOR EACH OF US, IT'S PERSONAL.
